

To Be Heard

*I have so much in my head
Words
Whole paragraphs
Unexpressed feelings and thoughts,
Political views,
Ramblings of a mad woman
But you'd have no idea.*

*You go about roaming the country,
Speaking to local shoppers and kissing babies,
While the unheard is being unheard.*

*This minority group contains voters,
But you choose to ignore us,
Ignore our families,
Ignore our carers' pleas,
Ignore our agencies' demises,
Ignore our united voices.*

*They say ignorance is bliss,
You're not ignorant
You know what's the right thing to do,
Yet you go about ignoring your conscience.*

*The other guy might be another you,
But at least he's not you,
This minority group might get the chance
To be heard.*
