

To You, and You, and You

*You give me love
You give me joy
With your precious smiles
With your precious hugs
You give life meaning
Even though your hands are little
You make life better.*

*You give me encouragement
You give me friendship
With your caring nature
With your acceptance
You keep me going with our chats, everyday
Even though you live far away
You make life better.*

*You give me support
You give me comfort
With your small but continuous messages
With your unnecessary concern
You make feel me not like a burden
Even though we don't catch up often
You make life better.*
