

Night's Visions

I had a strange dream last night, now I can't even remember what it was about, although I try with all my might.

I woke up with such a fright, all I know is it was someone who I didn't like.

*A dark stranger popped into my head, they were somewhat familiar but despised,
without a positive light*

Now I can't get your grating smile out of my head, I shuddered at the thought but now I carry on.
