

The Yesterday and Today World

---

*Yesterday we worried about fucking up the world,
By using polystyrene containers and nondegradable chemicals,
Those damage the ozone layer.*

*Today we're the ones fucking up the world,
With lone gunmen and terrorists,
Who kill peace and humanity in one moment.*

*Yesterday we thought "Sunday Bloody Sunday" was just a song,
Which reminded us that we live in better times,
Without political bombings and shootings.*

*Today we are seeing for ourselves the tragedies,
That we thought could never happen again,
But they are reoccurring time after time again.*

*Yesterday we taught our children stranger danger,
And to say no to drugs,
So they could grow up safely.*

*Today we are teaching our children about the world's safety,
To reinforce that Australia's safe,
Even from the catastrophes shown on TV.*

*Yesterday we prayed solemnly about inconsequential events,
Asking for personal favours,
To fulfil our hopes and dreams.*

*Today we are praying ceremonially for a divine intervention,
To change the rate of evil,
So that good prevails in the end.*
